2. ORGANISATION CHART

3. MAIN DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Operational Human Resources

- 3.1 To act as an Advisor to Managers on a range of operational Human Resource issues, ensuring that Trust policies and standards are adhered to. Key areas of activity will be:
- Advising line managers and staff on the interpretation of terms and conditions of employment and Trust policy (see 3.2)
 - Supporting line managers in the recruitment and selection of staff (see 3.3)
 - Advising and supporting line managers on the less complex employee relations issues (see 3.4)
 - Advising and supporting line managers in the management of sickness absence (see 3.5)
 - Advising and supporting line managers in non-complex disciplinary cases (see 3.6)
 - Advising managers in the early stages of the employee grievances (see 3.7)
 - Provision of workforce information to Managers (see 3.8)
- 3.2 To interpret terms and conditions of employment and Trust policy and to provide detailed information and guidance both orally and in writing to Line Managers and Staff Representatives on such matters. A key objective in this is the development of increased competency in line management and ensuring appropriate consistency across the Trust. Examples of areas covered include: annual leave, special leave, maternity leave, Agenda for Change issues.
- 3.3 To advise Managers on the recruitment and selection of staff, including job advertisement design, e-recruitment, job descriptions and person specifications, assessment methods and selection procedure. To act as best practice Advisor to panels, particularly if other members are not trained. In addition, the post holder will advise and support Managers in the redeployment of staff displaced through organisational change or other cause.
- 3.4 To advise Managers on employee relations issues in accordance with the Trust's HR policies; such issues may be sensitive or contentious and the jobholder will require influencing and persuasion skills to overcome resistance from employees and managers. Complex cases will normally be managed by a more senior member of the team.
- 3.5 To assist Managers in the management of attendance to support their achievement of targets for the reduction of sickness absence rates. This will include the provision of statistical information and assisting with sickness absence reviews up to and including Stage 3 action under the Trust's policy. In addition, the post holder will advise and support Managers in ill-health retirement or redeployment situations and the management of staff who are classed as disabled under the terms of the Equality Act.
